Black History Month always provides a fantastic opportunity for us to recognize the outstanding contributions people of African and Caribbean descent have made to our country over many generations.

Boris Johnson
Prime Minister

Labour made history by electing the first black MPs to Parliament over 30 years ago, including the first Black woman MP Diane Abbott. I am proud to say that Labour's Shadow Cabinet is the most diverse front bench of any party in British history.

What do you know about Black History?

3 Pictures of influential black people will come up on the screen. Your job is to put your hand up and tell me who they are and 3 facts about them.

Martin Luther King, Barack Obama and Rosa Parks are obviously FANTASTIC heroes of Black History Month. We know what they have achieved is AMAZING, but they are very prominent figures and most of us have already learnt about them during a previous Black History Month.

Your challenge this Black History Month is to find out about the great black people you DO NOT already know about. How they changed the world, what they created and what brilliant things they did! So your task is to find me in October and tell me 5 facts about an influential black person in history and I will give you five house points in return.

For now lets look at one inspirational figure together.
