THIS WEEK'S BIG QUESTIONS

Do we need to change our attitudes towards recycling e-waste?

- Which do you think is most important: reducing, reusing, or recycling?
- Why do you think people are less interested in recycling their e-waste?
- What would be a good way of informing people about their e-waste and where it goes?

WHAT OTHERS ARE SAYING

- "It's not about deprivation or doing without. It's about finding better choices." - Rachelle Strauss, founder of Zero Waste Week
- "We don't need a handful of people doing zero waste perfectly; we need millions of people doing it imperfectly." - Anne Marie Bonneau, Zero Waste chef

A CLOSER LOOK: ZERO WASTE WEEK

Zero Waste Week 2023 is taking place between 4th-8th September!

It began in 2008, and is a time for us all to rethink what we consider “rubbish”. Individuals, schools, companies, and organisations from around the world take part every year, spending the week preserving resources and having fun.

In the UK alone, 9.6 million tonnes of waste was sent to landfill in 2021. However, 63.2% of packaging waste was recycled. This includes materials like aluminium, paper & cardboard, glass, plastic, and wood. Metal was the most-recycled packaging material, with 76% of it being successfully processed for recycling.

YOUR COMPREHENSION QUESTIONS

- What is the aim of Zero Waste Week?
- For how many years has Zero Waste Week been running?
- Who can take part in Zero Waste Week?
- Which material was recycled the most in 2021?
- Challenge: what type of material is aluminium?

THIS WEEK'S OTHER NEWS STORIES

Hurricane Idalia approaches Florida

Hurricane Idalia has become a Category 4 hurricane. This means that wind speeds could reach 130 miles per hour! People have been told to evacuate Florida as soon as possible.

Bonuses cancelled after strikes

Network Rail have said that they will not give bonuses to workers who went on strike from June 2022 last year. Up to 20,000 workers will not get the extra £300 reward for good service.

Luis Rubiales facing investigation

After Spain's win in the Women's World Cup, Jenni Hermoso has said that the President of the Spanish Football Federation, Luis Rubiales, kissed her without her consent. Rubiales is currently suspended by Fifa.

Art attack in Glasgow

A statue of the Duke of Wellington outside Glasgow's Museum of Modern Art has been given a new hat, made out of a traffic cone and a propeller. Banksy has an exhibition inside the gallery, but is this his work as well?
